Syllabus of B. A. Honours in English Language and Literature (ELL) under Choice Based Credit System (CBCS)

Introduction

The syllabus has been revised in accordance with the Choice-Based-Credit-System (CBCS) under the guidelines provided by UGC. The new syllabus aims at equipping the students of this course with better understanding of the study of English Language and Literature. It aims at creating a balance between the language and the literature studies. One of the main objectives is to help the students to choose a stream of their choice for higher studies by giving them a basic knowledge of the various components of the study of English.

Programme objective:

B.A. Honours in English Language and Literature (ELL) has been formulated with the following objectives:

- To provide a conceptual base of English Language and Literature to the students.
- To improve the communication skills of the students besides grounding them in literature.
- To open a door of opportunities for students for further studies both in Language and Literature at post-graduation level.
- To facilitate admission to courses like B.Ed., Masters in Mass Communication and Management courses.

B.A. Hons. in English Language and Literature (ELL) has been formulated with the objective of enriching the foundation of the subject English in both the language and the literature aspects. On one hand it introduces the students to various nuances of language equipping them with good communication skills and on the other it facilitates them to learn and appreciate the beauty of literature and its dynamics in understanding human behaviour.

The most important purpose of the course is to empower and enable the students to explore varied fields of knowledge that require practical application of the subject and open a door of opportunities for higher education be it specialization in language or literature at post-graduation level, mass communication, management courses and B.Ed. It also ushers them to make a career as voice and accent trainer, content writer, proof readers and sub-editors, technical writers, journalists and such other fields.

B.A. Hons in English Language and Literature (ELL) prepares the students for higher studies and jobs by imparting a solid foundation of the subject English along with other necessary skills to enhance their employability proficiency. It not only facilitates them to overcome the barriers of learning but also provides an opportunity to master the various aspects of language. In addition to this it broadens the horizon of thinking of students and prepares them for life ahead as various issues of the contemporary world are addressed through various texts.
